

The Library for a Happy Future is a place to find inspiration, draw strength and meet with others. Together we seek to assemble a collection of positive visions for the future and answers to the question of how we can find enthusiasm while responding to the climate crisis.

How do we move from the challenges we face to a positive attitude?

The Library for a Happy Future was initiated by the organization Climate City Zurich at Werdmühleplatz, near Bahnhofstrasse, at the heart of the city.

It inspires action and solutions in the areas of mobility, construction, energy, nutrition, agriculture, consumption and finance. Together, we set out to create a vision for the year 2043.

Events at the library, on Werdmühleplatz and on city grounds show ways to a grandchild-friendly and socially acceptable future without greenhouse gas emissions.

The Library to the Happy Future is a stimulating stopover on the way to urban net zero 2040 goal and a climate-friendly future to which the City of Zurich is committed.

Stop by. The library is open from Tuesday to Saturday (10:30 - 18:30)

How can you contribute?

You may contribute to the library from anywhere in the world.
Be this in the form of texts, photos, models, video, audio.

As long as you explore the following question and draw some connection to the city of Zurich:

How do we create a positive and climate-friendly future in the next 20 years?
What does this world look like and what hurdles and transformations will we overcome in the process?

Library contributions can also be entered digitally. Through this link
